Re: Residual Solvents Statement

We confirm that our French Process zinc oxide, produced through the oxidation of zinc, does not contain any residual solvents. No solvents are used at any stage of the manufacturing process, including:

- Class I solvents: Not used
- Class II solvents: Not used
- Class III solvents: Not used
- Other solvents: Not used

Our product is fully compliant with the requirements outlined in Guide CPMP/ICH/283/95 Impurities: Guideline for residual solvents.

Please contact your commercial representative, customer service, or the Zochem technical department representative(s) below for any further questions.
